Profile

Strider Packs come in four distinct shapes with multiple graphic choices. For outdoor use primarily, Strider Packs let you take your message mobile at events and other experiential environments. The lightweight and durable backpack design is perfect for on-the-go outdoor campaigns.

Outfitted with an easy access literature holder, it's easy to carry brochures. Your message towers above the crowd, catching attention and creating interest. With two free hands your marketing warriors can focus on interacting with attendees while remaining the center of attention and drawing in those from a distance. Now you don't have to limit your exposure to one area. Strider Packs is an exciting new way to take your message to the masses!
